

Annaa Soleseis (she/they)

'The most important instrument is the heart, with it, our songs share the best of who we are.'

Annaa's greatest passion has always been music but it wasn't until her transition that she was truly able to unlock her potential. The honesty and emotional dynamics that shaped her transformation reverberate in every note and chord she plays. Love shares a truth we all belong to and Annaa's music tells of beauty and hope with loss and realization.

Annaa started playing guitar in high school and enjoyed being part of the school jazz band. Music was always most enjoyed when it was shared with others. She played many shows, had a lot of fun in bar bands and even spent time as a co-host for open mic / open jam nights.

During the pandemic, Annaa transitioned to the amazing woman she is now. Like a beautiful flower blooming, she has changed everything and has taken her music with her. This isolation and honesty allowed her the opportunity to record many songs, capturing the magic and heart-felt introspection that makes her special.

Annaa's music is a dynamic and unique combination of alternative, electronic, pop, rock and folk music. Their music comes from the heart and touches all who listen.

The integrity, creativity and originality of Annaa will move and inspire you. She writes all of the songs, plays the instruments, records the music, produces and mixes the tracks, creates all of the artwork and makes her own videos.
